

Second Sunday at the Refuge

2:00 p.m. ~ Barred Owl Room

January 13 The Birds of St. Marks NWR: An overview of Birds and the Birding Year, Don Morrow

An overview of what species have occurred and which ones can be expected in different seasons, followed by a month-by-month explanation of what's happening at St. Marks as bird diversity rises and falls.

(Photos by Nick Baldwin)

February 10 Subsistence of Ancient People, Tanya Peres, FSU

Dr. Peres is interested in the relationships between humans and their environments, and humans and animals - especially in terms of subsistence and how animals were incorporated into the native worldview.

March 10 The Search for Spring Creek, Jeff Shanks, SEAC

Over a century ago antiquarian Clarence B. Moore excavated the Spring Creek burial mound on what is now part of the St. Marks Refuge. NPS archaeologist Jeffrey Shanks and his colleagues have been searching for the village site that should accompany the mound based on their prior research.

April 14 Wakulla - Mysterious Waters, James Dunbar, ACRI

Location, location, location. For an estimated 14,500 years until present, the Wakulla Springs and River has attracted people to its mysterious waters. Beginning in 2015 with grid testing and 2017 with the first archaeological testing, the discoveries around this water waterway have been significant. The Wakulla – Mysterious Waters presentation will provide an update about the discoveries and the scientific protocols that have been employed.

St. Marks National Wildlife Refuge
1255 Lighthouse Road ~ Crawfordville, FL 32327
850-925-6121 ~ http://www.fws.gov/refuge/st_marks/

